

This board may appoint a curricular materials adoption committee to advise it on the selection of curricular materials. "Curricular materials" is defined as textbooks and instructional media including software, audio/visual media, and Internet resources for the schools in this district.

One-fourth (1/4) of the committee members will be persons who are not public educators or school trustees. All meetings of the committee will be open to the public, and any member of the public may attend such a meeting and file written objections to, or make oral objections to, any curricular materials under consideration.

This district will have available to the public the title, authors, and publishers of all curricular materials being used in the district. The public has the right to inspect the instructional materials, except students' tests, used in this district's schools.

Curricular materials are exempt from bidding requirements.
